SHIPPING BOARD LACKED SYSTEM

Handled Gigantic Sums And Never Knew Where It Stood, Trembles Gillen—Private Firms So Tangled Their Accounts That $120,000,000 Became "Lost."

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 17.—The United States Shipping Board expended nearly $4,000,000,000 on America's shipbuilding program, and earned nearly $400,000,000 by its operation of government owned vessels, but it had no system of accounting for those stupendous sums and up to February 27, 1920, never knew where it stood financially, according to the testimony offered the congressional investigating committee today by Martin J. Gillen, of Racine, Wis. Gillen was formerly associated with the war industries board and was special assistant to John Barton Payne when he was head of the shipping board.

Gillen cited one instance where private shipping companies derived $120,000,000 from the operation of government owned ships, which, he said, became "lost" so that there was no record of it at Washington. Private shipping companies so tangled their accounts that the shipping board had no accurate idea of whether there had been a profit or loss on the operation of its ships, Gillen testified.

"On October 3, 1919," he continued, "we started a drive to ascertain where the shipping board stood. Some 900 clerks were put to work disentangling government accounts from private shipping firms' books."

"There was no record at Washington of the excess moneys received by private ship operations from government ships, amounting, we ascertained, to $120,000,000."

"There was no system of accounting at Washington on October 1, 1919, to show where the money was and no system whereby information regarding this money could be traced."

Starting testimony as to alleged lax methods of handling huge sums was placed before the committee by Gillen.

"We found," he continued, "that of $400,000,000 made by government ships, there had been audits on only eight of these."

"We know there were vast sums from these voyages belonging to the government, but there was no record of them in the United States treasury or in the accounting department of the shipping board."

"I came to New York and at eight of the twenty-seven banks where shipping board funds were supposed to be deposited, I found there was $21,250,000, most of which was carried in private accounts, and not in the shipping board's name; and that interest varying from 2 to 3 1/2 percent was being paid."

"Later we found that in all the New York banks there was about $5,000,000 being carried of shipping board funds. One-tenth of this sum would have been sufficient."

ST. REGIS CO. BUYS KAATERSKILL

The famous Kaaterskill Hotel, located in the Catskill mountain near Haines Falls was sold Monday to the St. Regis Restaurant Company of New York city for $125,000. The purchase was made from the George Harding estate through the H. Perry agency of Tannersville.

The hotel was built by the late George Harding of Philadelphia at a cost of many hundreds of thousands of dollars. The legend is that Mr. Harding, on a certain occasion, when stopping at the Catskill Mountain House ordered fried chicken for dinner when there was no such dish on the menu. On being told that the chicken could not be served, he made a statement that there would be a wife in the Catskills where he did get what he ordered. The Kaaterskill Hotel is the story runs, is the result.

Mr. Harding purchased about 2500 acres of land embracing a great Catskill section and proceeded to erect the Kaaterskill in a way that is usually described as "recreation of cost." It is estimated that nearly a million dollars were spent by the time the hotel was opened. Mr. Harding conducted the house until his death, when the management was taken up by his daughter, Mrs. Felix Scratchley, who conducted it until her death about ten years ago. Since then it has been conducted by the estate with George Harding, a grandson of the builder, as manager.

ALLIES NOT TO BAR CONSTANTINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 17.—There is no basis for the report from Paris that the allies will bar former King Constantine from the throne of Greece. It was pointed out that the Greek people have every right to settle their own affairs with the ballot and that the Paris report was evidently "inspired."

Diplomatic circles believe that the movement to restore Constantine to the Greek throne will be successful. Diplomats fear, however, that the return of Constantine to Athens will be followed by an attempted anti-monarchist coup, which will result in acute disorders making intervention by the allies necessary.

TO STRIVE FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 17.—The American Association for recognition of the Irish Republic, an organization intended to operate along lines laid down by President De Valera, was formed early today at a conference of Irish leaders from all over the country summoned by the Irish president, at the Raleigh Hotel.

The new association is intended to supplant The Friends of Irish Freedom. The conference, which opened with an address by Eamonn De Valera yesterday morning, remained in almost continuous session behind closed doors for fifteen hours, adopting a plan, a name, a constitution and a policy of organization. This latter contemplates the formation of branches in every state. The state branch will be the unit as against centralized power, which the organizers complained of in the other organization.

MOHONK EXPERIMENT.

Famous Spot in Shawangunk May Become Winter Resort.

Mohonk is passing through the experimental period of an all year resort. The famed mountain house will soon be a winter resort as well as a summer. This is due chiefly to the establishment of the school at Mohonk. Technically, Mohonk is closed, but there are rumors that in the near future when the school has a building of its own, the foundation will have been securely laid for winter resort business at the lake. Many remained when the house closed early in the month as guests of the school.

WRANGLER PLAYED OUT.

Defeated Commander Arrives At Constantinople.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Constantinople, Nov. 17.—General Wrangel, who arrived here from Sebastopol upon the Russian ship Koruloff, is exhausted from his heavy labor on the Crimean battle front. Representatives of the allied mission conferred with him today. Forty thousand refugees have arrived from Crimea upon French warships. The last French cruiser to leave Sebastopol was the Waldeck Rousseau. She came into port crowded with fugitives and wounded.

Hungry Bally Horse.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Nov. 16.—As a punishment for talking, Edward Byrne, a farmer of Crum Elbow, tied one end of a rope around the neck of one of his horses, threw the rope over a tree limb and fastened the other end to the bridle of another, which immediately became frightened and pulled so hard that it tightened the rope and strangled its mate. Members of the S. P. C. A. investigated, and Byrne, pleading guilty, was fined $25. He admitted he went to work the morning after the hanging and did not go to the field to see if the horses were all right.

Lines Call For Help.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 17.—Wireless calls for help were picked up here today from the Allen-State passenger liner Madagascar, which was reported in distress in a terrific gale, 200 miles off the Rhode Island coast. The distress calls were picked up by the marine division of the police department, but no details were given. The navy intelligence bureau reported that it had received no word from the liner. Providence, R. I., was the last port touched by the Madagascar.

Three Hundred Are Turkey.

Each year the turkey dinners at the Roman Catholic Church grow more popular, apparently. Tuesday the women of the church served turkey dinner last, with all the "fixings," and everything just delicious, to some 300 hungry people, who later were appreciating the fact they were very pretty and novel, and the "bit of gold" provided over jealously by Mrs. Grace Terrell. The dinner was an affair to grow up to as children. A turkey meal, which there will be an enormous turkey dinner and very enjoyable in character.

POLES PROMISE TO WITHDRAW

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Riga, Nov. 17.—Charging that the Poles are giving support to the forces under Balahovitch, General Savinkoff and General Potlura, that are advancing into Russian territory, soviet Russia is threatening to send an army to clear all Russian soil and the neutral zone between soviet Russia and Poland of hostile troops. This threat was made by M. Joffe, head of the soviet Russian peace delegation, at a meeting of the Russian-Polish envoys in this city.

The Polish envoys promised to withdraw at once the Polish factions that are with General Balahovitch, General Savinkoff and General Potlura.

There are white, Russian, Polish and Ukrainian troops fighting under General Balahovitch, General Savinkoff and General Potlura. According to advices received on Saturday, some of these troops were advancing into White Russia in the region of Minsk and others were advancing through Ukraine.

PETLURA BEATEN, CLAIM SOVIETS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 17.—Moscow newspapers claim that the soviet army has won a great victory over the Ukrainian army of General Petlura, annihilating three divisions, according to a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen today.

General Petlura's campaign against the soviet Russians was begun before the collapse of General Wrangel's army. Petlura's forces moved through Ukraine and were attempting to fight their way through to the Crimean front when the Wrangel forces were crushed in northern Crimea.

CHARITY BALL NETTED $765.28

The Ulster County Committee of the State Charities Aid Association desires to thank the patrons and others who gave so generously to their support on the occasion of the ball in behalf of the dependent children of Ulster county, given at the armory on October 12. The proceeds of that ball netted $765.28.

It is a pleasing reflection to know that the work of rescuing little children from improper environments, giving them in fact a chance for their lives meets with such a sympathetic appreciation in this community.

The committee desires to tender its grateful acknowledgments for services rendered to Miss Helen Westbrook for her very efficient management of all details of the ball, to C. Hume for his services as treasurer and to Mrs. George Chandler for her services in charge of the publicity committee.

Very truly yours,
FRANCIS J. HIGGINSON, President.

CICOTTE BONDED

In Sum of $3,000 To Appear For Trial.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Nov. 17.—Eddie Cicotte, White Sox pitcher, whose confession that he and seven other team mates of his club had been bribed to "throw" the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati was one of the sensations of the recent grand jury probe of baseball dishonesty, is today under bond of $3,000 to appear for trial. Attorney H. P. Cassidy, of Detroit, representing Cicotte, gave assurances to the state's attorney here that the pitcher would turn state evidence and tell at the trial substantially the same story he told to the grand jury.

Storm Hits Syracuse Hard.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 17.—A short storm, the first of the season, which struck this city last evening and gradually turned into a fall of snow, followed by a downpour of rain, badly crippled trolley lines and other traffic here during the early morning today. The accumulated slush was a foot deep. Nearly every street corner had its group of patiently waiting workers, awaiting the coming of a trolley car to take them to their destinations. Many thousands were thus delayed for hours. The trolley system utterly failed to meet the demand upon it. Taxi service was in urgent demand.

Carabinieri Kill Self.

Max Grabhorn, 45, confectioner, cigar manufacturer and member of the executive committee of the Central Commercial Travelers, committed suicide at his home at Middletown, N. Y., Tuesday, by drinking carbolic acid. No motive can be ascertained for the act.

Anti-German Riots.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 17.—Anti-German riots have broken out at Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia, said an Exchange Telegram from Vienna today.

VENIZELLOS'S LOSS SHOCK TO ALLIES

Probable Return of Pro-German Constantine to Greek Throne Adds Greatly to Unsettled in Near East and May Upset Turkish Peace Treaty.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 17.—The international outlook is pregnant with perils as a result of the outcome of the Greek election, which is generally interpreted as a recall of former King Constantine to the Athens throne, according to the Daily Telegraph today.

The diplomatic expert of the Daily Telegraph, in analyzing the new situation created by the Greek election, said: "The British and French will assuredly not hesitate to declare that they no longer regard Greece as a friendly power if Constantine again becomes the head of the state. The international outlook is pregnant with immediate perils. The Turkish peace treaty (Treaty of Sevres) may easily be jeopardized."

Keen regret over the defeat of the Venizelists was expressed by practically all of the leading newspapers. "We cannot recall since Aristotle the just a more signal example of popular ingratitude and folly," said the Times. "The Turkish treaty has not yet been ratified and the action of the Greek public may now lead to a modification of public confidence. The allies have received a rude shock."

"Some British firms have already intimated that they will not trade with Greece if former King Constantine returns to the throne," said the Morning Post. "It is possible for the allies to cancel their loans and produce an economic crisis in Greece."

The Daily Chronicle quoted a former Greek court official as saying:

"Greece has called back her exiled king and it is obvious that he will lose no time in heeding the call. We believe that Italy will not oppose his return and we feel sure that Premier Lloyd-George will not look coldly nor unfavorably upon an appeal to him asking for the restoration of the King of United Greece."

The Daily Graphic printed on an unconfirmed report that Premier Venizelos of Greece, who resigned yesterday, had left the country for Egypt, but it was not generally believed to be true.

"Venizelos is planning to leave Greece to reside in an allied country," according to the Athens correspondent of the Daily Express. The ex-premier already has announced his retirement from politics.

Conflicting reports were current in Athens, Lucerne and London over the future movements of Constantine. "Constantine probably will make a dash for Greece by way of Brindisi, landing at Patras," said an Athens dispatch to the Daily Chronicle.

"A definite date will soon be set for a plebiscite in Greece upon the question of the former king's return," said an Exchange Telegram dispatch from Geneva.

According to this telegram, Constantine will await the results of the plebiscite before making any effort to return to Athens.

Reports were current among the delegates attending the league of nations assembly meeting at Geneva that the allied powers might bar Constantine from the Greek throne on account of his pro-German sympathies during the war.

ADVERTISERS MUST HELP

Get In Early If They Expect to Appear in Print.

Last week, through the co-operation of a few advertisers who sent their copy in on Thursday, The Freeman was enabled to issue a sufficiently large paper on Friday to give all advertisers the space demanded, without curtailing the space devoted to news. This should be done every week and will be done if advertisers continue to send copy in early, but in order to handle increasing business it will be necessary for an increasing number of advertisers to send in copy early. No large advertisements can be inserted unless copy is received the day before.

Wind Blows Truck Off Bridge.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Nov. 17.—Two men riding on an electric auto truck narrowly escaped death today by jumping when the truck, turning broadside to the heavy wind, was blown off Harvard Bridge and plunged fifty feet to the Charles River. The driver, Albert M. Downes, of Cambridge, was taken to the relief hospital. His companion, Edward O. Leonard, of Haverhill, escaped with minor injuries. The truck carried $200 worth of bread and pastry with it to the river bottom.

Are Building Garage.

Waters and Eiel, the wheelmen, have and have a garage on O'Connell street, are building a garage on their property 50 feet by 20 feet and one story high. The new garage will be chiefly for the use of their own vehicles although there may be some storage space. Bad weather is interfering with the work.

HARDING PRESSED TO VISIT MEXICO

Friendly Conference With Obregon Would Help Stabilize Conditions. In Belief of Many—Has Declined Invitations To Take Other Side Trips on Panama Tour.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 17.—President-elect Harding today is considering a most urgent invitation to visit Mexico to confer with General Obregon, president-elect of the Mexican republic, but thus far he has given no intimation of his intentions with regard to the proposed Mexican visit. Conjecture ran high here today concerning the proposed visit and most of the sentiment along the border would be that it would be very desirable if Senator Harding could see his way clear to accept the invitation extended yesterday by Elias Torres, representative of General Obregon. Border folks feel that any friendliness evinced by President-elect Harding would lend stability to the present regime in Mexico and might offset a reported undercurrent of opposition to the present Mexican government.

In the Harding party there were some who unofficially were of the opinion that Senator Harding might see fit to stop at a Mexican port for a short visit although it was pointed out that he had more than once stated on this trip that he would not touch foreign soil.

It was also pointed out that the senator had declined an invitation to visit Venezuela and has not definitely accepted an invitation to visit the city of Panama. He has refused to cross the Mexican border, while in Texas, although he has been beseeched to do so by prominent Mexicans.

There was also interest in any comment that might come from Washington on the suggested visit.

CLEARING UP CHICAGO DEATHS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Nov. 17.—Marcus Brumberg and Harris Jorgenson, two 19 year old youths, were to be questioned further today in connection with the death of Marie Ramey and Lillian Thompson, actresses, the finding of whose bodies in Grant Park early Sunday added another to Chicago's list of amazing murder mysteries. Both have confessed that they put the girls into an automobile at a lonely spot in Grant Park and left them there.

Whiskey and exposure caused the death of the girls, rather than violence, the police believe, but the story told by Brumberg and Jorgenson will be checked up from every possible angle.

Meantime Lawrence Jorgenson, a brother of Harris, and a man named McCarthy, said to be a cook on a coal boat now en route to Buffalo, are being sought as a result of stories told by the two men under arrest.

Brumberg and Jorgenson told the police that they were joy riding Saturday night and encountered the two actresses on a north side street. Both were intoxicated, the men said, and begged to be taken home. Jorgenson and Brumberg put them in their car, they said, but the women, in their intoxicated condition, were unable to give an understandable answer.

After driving about a mile, the men said, the two women were somewhat revived by the night air and began to shout and sing and to insist upon leaving the car. Fearing that the boisterousness of the women would attract attention, the youths drove their car into Grant Park, they said, and left the women sitting on a wind-swept grass along the lake shore.

The phase of the case which the police are most anxious to clear up is the large amount of blood found near the bodies. Jorgenson and Brumberg assert that this came from cuts on the hand of one of the women, received from a broken whiskey bottle which she carried.

The man named McCarthy, Brumberg and Jorgenson said, was with them but left shortly after Lawrence Jorgenson, a sailor at Green Lakes Naval Training Station, was with his brother and Brumberg during their "joy ride."

Three Dead in Fire at Orange.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

The dead are Mrs. Bernice Herk and her daughters, Catherine and Susan, and Theresa, aged five. The woman's husband was heading her family from the building when they got prepared in the smoke. The bodies of Mrs. Herk and the children were later found amidst the debris in the basement.

GALE AND RAIN CRIPPLE NEW YORK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 17.—A terrible gale of wind, accompanied by heavy rain, swept the entire eastern coast early today driving ships to shelter and causing much damage to property.

Wireless appeals for help were received from four steamships. One of the vessels, the Spanish cargo liner Yute, reported she was sinking 100 miles off Nantucket. "S. O. S." calls came also from the 1,761 ton French freighter Gannua, in distress off Baltimore; from the 3,500 ton tanker Ilusko and an unidentified ship off Cape Henry.

Early in the day the marine division of the police department reported the receipt of a help call from the Allen-State liner Madagascar off the Rhode Island coast, but as nothing more was heard it was assumed that a garbled radiogram had been picked up and that the Madagascar was in no danger.

One person was killed and many were injured as a result of the storm in this city. A man was blown to death from an elevated platform in Brooklyn. Plate glass windows were blown in and street car service was crippled.

SANITARIUM FOR NEW YORK COPS

The Kaplan Property in Platte Clove In Greene County Bought by New York Police Department—Formerly Used as a Summer Home.

The Kaplan property, consisting of 332 acres of land with large dwelling house and buildings has been sold to the New York police force, who are represented by J. Lewis Malcolm, village attorney, of Catskill, as their attorney. The property was occupied in 1902 by R. David Kaplan and up to the time of his death as his summer home. Police Commissioner Leach of New York was in Catskill a week ago when the purchase was effected and the papers effecting the transfer drawn up by Mr. Malcolm.

The Kaplan property is in the Platte Clove, in the town of Hunter, near the Ulster county line. It is beautifully situated and Mr. Kaplan made many improvements upon it. The New York police propose to establish a sanitarium there, which will be opened this winter especially for neurasthenic cases. The dwelling house is well adapted for this purpose and there are other buildings which may readily be turned into cottages. It is supposed in time the New York police will build a great sanitarium on the property. The police force is now raising a fund of several million dollars with a view to building a hospital and providing in other ways for the well-being of the force.

FELDSTEIN WINS RAILROAD SUIT

Awarded Damages and Costs Amounting to $306.73 in City Court in Trial of Action Against West Shore to Recover Damages to Material Shipped From Camp Dix Here.

City Judge Harry E. Schrick has just handed down a decision in the suit brought by Isidor O. Feldstein, the local tailor, against the West Shore Railroad, in favor of Feldstein, who was represented at the trial by John T. Louchman. The railroad was represented by Amos Van Ethen.

January 16, 1919, at Camp Dix, Mr. Feldstein delivered machines, goods and merchandise to the Pennsylvania Railroad consigned to himself at Kilsbreen, which were later turned over to the West Shore Railroad and delivered to Mr. Feldstein about February 10, 1919. He claimed that the machines, goods and merchandise were badly damaged, and he was put to an expense of $146.72 to repair the machines and other articles, and was further damaged by loss of the use of the articles in the sum of $160.00, a total sum for of $306.72.

Judge Schrick in his decision awards Feldstein damages in the sum of $276.73, while which with the costs before the total verdict in his favor is $306.45.

The suit was tried some time ago in city court, and at the close both sides filed briefs with Judge Schrick.

Gale on L. I. Sound.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New London, Conn., Nov. 17.—A heavy gale swept Long Island Sound today before Judge Schwartz, in the Monticourt county court, pleaded guilty to kidnapping Blakely, the 12 months' old son of George Couchlin, from the parents' home on June 2 but also pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree.

"The Crack" had stated that the child was smothered to death under his father's coat, as it was being taken from the Couchlin home to a place where it was to have been kept in hiding, pending efforts of "The Crack" to start ransom from the parents for the return of the child. It is expected that he will be given a life sentence, under the Pennsylvania state law, for the kidnapping, sentence will be imposed later today.

ARGENTINE ASKS OPEN LEAGUE DOOR

And Another Sign Is Created In Assembly—Secret Sessions Begin—No Covenant Amendments Until March, At Least.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Geneva, Nov. 17.—Foreign Minister Pueyrredon, of Argentina, caused a sensation at the opening of today's session of the league of nations assembly meeting by declaring that all recognized nations ought to be admitted to membership.

"Argentina considers that every recognized nation should be taken into the league of nations," declared the South American statesman. "Otherwise we shall create dangerous antagonisms and create a new alliance against the league."

"This declaration was considered significant in view of the conflicting reports concerning Germany. Although the German foreign office was quoted as saying that Germany would not seek admission, it was said that a neutral country might act for Germany in seeking her entrance into the league."

Geneva, Nov. 17.—The league of nations assembly meeting settled down into action today with the committees meeting behind closed doors. The report of the secretary-general, Sir Eric Drummond, was approved. There was no plenary session.

Six vice-presidents of the assembly will be elected tomorrow morning. Despite the agitation of several small groups in favor of amendment of the league of nations covenant to conform with the views of the United States, it is certain that nothing definite will be done at present session. The rules of order would have to be amended and these already have been adopted provisionally.

Dr. Alfredo Costa, the Portuguese delegate, who has taken a leading part in the movement to have the covenant revised, said that another meeting of the assembly probably would be held in March for decisive action along this line.

I am indeed proud to be considered to have played any part in promoting the concord of nations with the establishment of such an instrumentality as the league through whose increasing usefulness and success I look forward with perfect confidence.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

There Used to Be a Popular Song About Wearing 'Em Higher in Hawaii, But in Kingston You Can't Tell Mother From Daughter From a Rear View.

"When money talks does it always talk cents?" asked the customer with a grin as he glanced up from the pages of The Freeman.

"Hub," retorted the busy barber, "you need not talk about me trying to be a humorist when you spring anything like that."

"Well I am supposed to laugh at your near jokes and you ought to laugh when I spring a real one," said the customer.

"I will when you do," promised the barber.

"I notice you usually tell the truth while you are at it, at that," commented the customer.

"Why not," replied the barber, "I have found that telling lies gets you into almost as much difficulty."

"And there is a lot of unsuspected truth in that too," said the customer in a reflective tone.

"Who are those two passing by on the other side of the street?" asked the barber suddenly pointing to two ladies who had their backs turned toward the barber shop and were walking in an opposite direction.

"Looks like sisters to me," said the customer, "but I don't know them."

"Sisters nothing," snorted the barber, "they are mother and daughter, but there is some excuse for your mistake for with the styles the women wear these days you can't tell a woman's age from a rear view, and the amount of paint some slam on their faces you got to get a closeup to even guess which is the younger, mother or daughter."

"They're wearing 'em higher in Hawaii," hummed the customer.

"They may be but I doubt it," retorted the barber, "and it reminds me of the story they tell about a couple who had one child, a girl about twelve years old. The mother was suddenly called out of town, and did not return for several weeks, and when she did get home she found that their child had been wearing all of her new frocks, and the father had never noticed the difference as they were cut about the same length as the child's own dresses."

"Another case of tell my lawyer about the legacy," quoth the customer with a grin.

A Distracted Public?

Something is to be said for all the explanations concerning the "strife" of the buying public and the consequent crash in prices. To some extent the struggle is indeed a strike of consumers against unconscionable prices. To a larger extent the withdrawal of the public is due to the exhaustion of its purchasing power. For many millions of Americans patriotism during the war brought forth Liberty Bonds were bought to a considerable extent by scripping. When peace came millions of people found themselves in possession of enforced savings; but the boom of economy as a result of the war had been so great that they were not prepared to spend generously. Now these compulsory savings are exhausted. Finally, as in the case of automobile sales which were bought largely on part-time payment, there was a distorting of individual purchasing power. This source of buying was another the first to dry up.

One cause of dropping trade is not correctly mentioned. This is the high probability that people during such times actually bought more than for ordinary occasions.

The NEW EDISON as a Xmas Gift

WOULDN'T you like to know why the family will get more enjoyment out of the New Edison than out of any other phonograph? Come in and ask for the "Personal Favorites" Realism Test. We've said that listening to the New Edison is the same as listening to the living artist. We've said you get the same emotional thrill when you hear your favorite music RE-CREATED by the New Edison, as when you hear it by the living artist.

and are now living on these reserves. Wage earners not only bought silk shirts but bought them by the half dozen and dozen, and it must have been the same in the entire field of dress. To millions with a very moderate income there had been preached for years a counsel of perfection: that it is more economical to buy high-class goods than shoddy, and more economical to buy two or three suits of clothes and get long wear by frequent change than to buy one suit and consume it rapidly. It was the same counsel of perfection, or the same regret, so often expressed in connection with the treatment of poor who pay more for their coal and ice than the millionaires do because they have no storage facilities. The war for the first time made it possible for a great many people to buy in quantity.

Are people so shabby as they are reputed to be, in protest against high prices? Are shoes and clothes marooned in the merchants' shelves because people are reselling their old shoes and wearing old overcoats, or because they are wearing new shoes and clothes purchased on a generous scale in times of prosperity? One reason for the present partial paralysis of commodity markets may be that the public is commodity saturated.—New York Evening Post.

THE VLY.

The Vly. Nov. 16.—Church service was not very well attended here Sunday.

Do You Step Out With Soap and Paper? Are You Able to Get Things Done?

Don't Stand in Your Own Way

People With Thin, Weak Blood Have a Hard Time of It. They Should Take Pepsin-Mangan.

Look at the facts of your health. So much depends on having red blood. If you stand up in front of your work with half-starved blood in your system you are making in your own way. You are working your own progress.

Thin blood makes you dull. It makes you pale. You take no enjoyment out of your work. It is only half as good as it should be.

You can remedy that condition so easily. Begin taking that fine food, Pepsin-Mangan, today and keep it up for awhile. Your blood will become enriched. Pepsin-Mangan makes red blood corpuscles. You will get energy and strong power of resistance. Instead of standing in your own way, you will push yourself ahead because of greater vitality.

But be sure you get the genuine Pepsin-Mangan. It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Ask for "Gutler" and be sure that the name is on the package. The tablets or the liquid have the same beneficial value.

THE DAY OF THE PRUDENT.

An editorial from the New York Evening Post, reprinted in another column, assigns the present comparative dullness in trade to the "saturated" condition of the public. This position is doubtless sound, so far as it goes, but there is a part of the public that has been too prudent to become "saturated" at high prices but has saved its money and skipped itself in anticipation of the day of lower prices which is now at hand. This "unsaturated" buying class will come into the market as soon as it is convinced that prices are lower—in fact it has reached a point where it is beginning to be forced in, regardless of prices, because there must come a time when wornout goods must be replaced. Now, while the absence of the "saturated" buyers from the market has forced prices down, is the time for the prudent ones to supply their needs. There is no reason to suppose that prices will fall lower for some time. On the other hand there is the probability of a speedy recovery, in part at least. Now, while the reaction from the silk shirt jamboree is acute, is the time for the "unsaturated" prudent and sane to stock up. Advertisements in The Freeman will show them how and where.

DEFINITIONS NEEDED.

The Volstead act does declare it to be unlawful "to advertise, manufacture, sell or possess for sale any distillate, contrivance, machine, preparation, compound, tablet, substance, formula, direction or recipe, advertised, designed or intended for use in the unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor," but does it forbid home manufacture of intoxicants for home use alone, of which there is so much in progress? Does it forbid the sale of raisins, rye, corn meal, etc., which are employed under the numerous recipes for making home brews? Does it provide that a man can be arraigned and fined merely for "having liquor in his house?" Exact and authoritative definitions are much needed. The Federal Prohibition commissioner has announced his purpose to prevent the sale of hops and malt except to registered manufacturers, but local interpreters of the law do not stop at this and are attempting to bring government regulation into the privacy of individual homes. For example, a Macon, Ga., man has been fined $150 merely for "having liquor in his house."

Referring to such zeal on the part of prohibition crusaders, the Johnstown, Pa., Democrat remarks that "a murder is all in the day's happenings and is accepted calmly as a matter of course, but the sale of a drink is something to make the elect sit up and take notice and send out a general alarm." The world long ago realized that murder, theft, arson, etc., could not be stopped altogether, but prohibition, being a new crusade, is apt to go to extremes. No doubt in time its zealous will learn that extreme measures hurt the cause itself by piling up a volume of popular resentment difficult to deal with. It is well to remember that under the fundamental law of most nations, including our own, the citizen's home is still his "castle."

INDIVIDUALS.

Individuals come and individuals go, but organizations remain. This has been said and written so often that it is threadbare. The day may come, however, when those who would rather work alone than with the organized forces will see that results can only be accomplished by working together. In recent years several of the personally ambitious have come to the fore, due in most instances to circumstances over which they had little or no control, but which they accepted as a tribute to themselves individually. Their presence in the limelight was short-lived, which proves that no man is bigger than an organization, even though some are led to believe so by a transitory success.

A long list could be given to show that the life of an individual in politics or anything else is brief unless he works with the organized forces. The individual who starts out alone to revolutionize the business world does not get very far before he meets with a setback that tells him, if he is wise, that he is not proceeding along the right path. The same rule applies in the professions, instances being available to prove that even in medicine and law the individuals who thought they alone could revolutionize treatment or practice could not accomplish all they set out to do.

It has been shown that the way to accomplish anything lasting is by organization. Speaking definitely of politics, the course for any person to follow who wants to see advances made is to work with the organization. If the things he has in mind are solid and he will fight for them, the organization, whether it is Republican or Democratic, will adopt the suggestion. There is no question about this, but it must be remembered that individual victory does not count, because a success of that kind only lasts over night and things go back where they were.

If you believe the organization in your community or any community is not being conducted as it should be, go after it in an orderly manner. The election machinery permits you to do so. By fighting in the orderly way you will be successful if you are right in your conclusions. But you cannot go it alone. Nobody yet has ever been able to do so, and without giving the entire list, one shining example of a person who tried it is Woodrow Wilson. And there are others, enough of them to urge team work rather than individualism.

AT THE THEATRES.

"Piccadilly Jim" at Keeney's—Vaudeville Here Tomorrow.

All the natural wit and humor possessed by happy-go-lucky Owen Moore is injected into "Piccadilly Jim" showing at Keeney's tonight only. Owen Moore as "Piccadilly Jim" the devil-may-care hero in P. G. Woodhouse's famous, Saturday Evening Post story, returns to America with a freshness and determination that is as conspicuous as it is entertaining. Tomorrow Dorothy Gish in "Remodelling Her Husband," she married a flirt with an eye for a "skirt," her friends warned her that he was a devil among the girls. It's a picture said to be crammed full of laughs.

Holbrook Blinn is at the Auditorium in an amazing financial story of "The Boss," a tale of crooked politics and public officials with plenty of action and thrills. Tom Mix is also programmed in a two part western drama. Tomorrow Charlie Chaplin in the "Vagabond" and a strong dramatic play "Hidden Light." Starting tomorrow at the Opera House for a three day engagement is a snappy variety offering headed by the headline vaudeville act known as "The Review Comique" a comedy sketch with dances and jokes. The program also includes the photoplay offering will be Wallace Reed in "Excuse My Dust." It is an automobile romance that has made "Wally" famous and this is the third of his speed series. ## ENTOMBED IN MINE.

Sixteen Are Believed to Have Suffocated.

By Telegram to The Freeman, Easton, Ky., Nov. 17.—Fear that sixteen men entombed three miles back from the mouth of the Arnold mine, have died of suffocation was strong today as rescuers, equipped with oxygen tanks and masks, sought to make their way to the spot where the miners are trapped. A fire near the opening of the mine shut off the only means of escape for the imprisoned miners.

Early this morning rescuers completed a tunnel around the fire-blocked entrance and started for the rear of the mine. The St. Bernard Coal Company, of Evansville, Ind., is the owner of the mine.

BANKERS URGE CO-OPERATION

Recognizing the dependence of modern society upon the public utilities, which have become integral parts of our modern social and business life, the Investment Bankers' Association of America, through its Board of Governors, has pledged its active support and co-operation to the owners and operators of utilities and all regulatory bodies in laying before the public full information respecting the vital importance of prompt and continuing expansion of all kinds of utility service and in encouraging utility regulations which will provide sound credit as the basis for financing. This Association is acting without mercenary motive and purely with an understanding of how essential public utilities are to the welfare and prosperity of the communities served, through the long experience of its members in investigating properties and conditions underlying the financing of the properties. It may well be assumed that they are speaking earnestly and truthfully, since in practically all cases their interests are, and must be, the interests of the public as a whole.

A Demonstration of Practical Economy that Concerns Every Housewife in America

Two pounds of Mazola fried 208 Doughnuts—2 pounds of Lard fried only 138

MRS. A. Louise Andrea—awarded the gold medal at the Panama-Pacific Exposition as lecturer on food and culinary topics—in a comparative test recently fried 208 doughnuts in 2 lbs. of Mazola, while only 138 could be fried in the same amount of lard.

At the same time this expert fried 24½ lbs. of potatoes in 2 lbs. of Mazola, as against 7 lbs. 14 oz. fried in 2 lbs. of lard.

Also, she fried 25½ lbs. of fish steak, cut to a uniform thickness of one inch, in two lbs. of Mazola. Two lbs. of lard fried only 16½ lbs.

Equal to Butter at Half the Price—Better than Lard

This means that Mazola is from twice to more than three times more economical to use than lard, on the basis of actual accomplishment.

In each test, 4 lbs. each of Mazola and lard were fried down to 2 lbs.

This confirms the experience of the seven million housewives who already use Mazola, the Great American Cooking Oil.

Mazola is a 100% pure vegetable fat. There is no loss from evaporation, nor loss of bulk from heating. It remains sweet and clean, and can be used over and over again—merely strain it.

Quality and Economy— a Problem Solved

The wonderful economy and high quality of Mazola teach a lesson that no thrifty housewife can ignore. Not only will the cost of cooking the daily meals be cheaper, but the food more delicious and digestible.

Mazola is sold at all good grocers in pint, quart, half-gallon and full gallon cans.

Once you try Mazola for Salads you will prefer it to the finest imported olive oils. The price of Mazola is about half that of olive oil. No customs duty—no ocean freight charges on Mazola.

ADVANTAGES OF CO. M MEMBERS

Company M, First Infantry, New York Guard, is at the present time looking for recruits. Any one between the ages of 18 and 45 is eligible to enroll in this fine military organization.

Many of the younger men of Kingston look upon Company M as a purely military organization but it really goes further than this. It is a social organization as well as a military one.

Everything is being done by the commanding officer to make the work interesting to the various members.

An indoor baseball league has been formed for the members composed of four teams. A prize is offered to the winning team in this league. The prize will not only enrich the winners but helps increase the rivalry and sportsmanship among the different boys.

Indoor baseball, however, is not the only sport enjoyed by the company. If a sufficient number desire any other sports the armory will be equipped for them regardless of the expense and any member can use the privileges any time he so desires.

The armory is also home or club house for the boys where they can go any time they desire. Instead of "hanging" about the streets, night the boys can go in the armory and play pool or any other game free of charge.

One thing in particular should appeal to the high school boys especially those desirous of entering West Point Military School. One year's service in the state guard eliminates all the red tape about getting an appointment to this institution. The state gives certain number of appointments each year to members of the guard providing they pass the entrance examinations. This side of the organization should appeal greatly to any young man who has no definite plans for his future.

The company also gives one an opportunity to meet and know other young men about town. To learn to handle a gun and at the same time benefiting one physically and morally. The army regulations teach a man to think clearly and to the point.

The personnel of the company at the present time consists of Captain Fowler, Lieutenant Hiltbrand and Lieutenant Cashin and about 50 men. The quota of the company is about one hundred and any young man may obtain an application blank by applying at the armory.

"California"

The name was first applied to Lower California, and probably was taken from the name of a fictitious island abounding in gold and precious stones, which was described in the Spanish romance, "Las Sergas de Esplandian," published in 1510.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Nov. 17.—Thursday, November 11, armistice day, found everyone astir bright and early, busily decorating houses and streets for the great celebration. All stores and shops in the village closed at 12 o'clock and the citizens, as well as people from the surrounding country, lined the streets in great anticipation. The parade, which began at Liberty Square at 2:15 p. m., was led by the Ellenville Band and members of the George Cook Post of the American Legion. Then came the Pioneer Engine Co., the Ellenville Fire Corps, the Scoresby Hose, Hook and Ladder Company and the Middletown Band. The town board of trustees and members of the G. A. R. followed in automobiles and last but not least came the girls and boys of the Ellenville High School and grades and the Pine Grove School. The course taken was by Canal street to the west end, down Center street to the other end of the village and then back up Canal street to Liberty Square, where the parade broke up and the people assembled to hear Judge Cunningham's speech from the steps of Memorial Hall. This speech was much appreciated and will long be remembered by those who heard it. Judge Cunningham then presented the George Cook Post of the American Legion, in behalf of the town, with a legion flag. Shortly afterward the crowd dispersed and the people wandered their way homeward, feeling very contented and happy.

STATE HOSPITALS BADLY CROWDED

State Fails to Catch up With Accumulated Congestion in Spite of Large Appropriations for New Construction.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17.—The thirteen state hospitals for the insane are still overcrowded by more than 5,500 patients, or 18 per cent above their capacity, according to the annual report of the State Charities Aid Association to the state hospital commission made public today.

The total number of patients is now 35,845, but the institutions were only built to accommodate 30,324, and the congestion which results from making some sort of provision for the patients who necessarily must be taken in causes a serious situation in the hospitals, especially those in and near New York city.

The following table shows how each institution is overcrowded:

State Hospitals.	Overcrowded
Binghamton	241
Brooklyn	209
Buffalo	445
Central Islip	1,227
Gowanda	282
Hudson River	592
Kings Park	683
Manhattan	430
Middletown	228
Rochester	312
St. Lawrence	277
Utica	272
Willard	323
Total	5,521

Some progress has been made, however, during the past year toward reducing this overcrowding. Appropriations for new construction at the state hospitals passed by the legislature last year and approved by the governor amounted to $3,675,000, and additional construction amounting to $1,461,750 was authorized. The chief new construction of state hospitals now in progress is at the Marcy division of the Utica State Hospital, where the state owns about 1,000 acres of farm land and is developing what will virtually be a new state institution.

The special session of the Legislature also passed an appropriation of $5,000,000 providing for the immediate erection of a hospital for this state's mentally disabled veterans of the world war. This institution is now being erected on the site of the old life range at Greenwood, L. I. When it is completed, about ten months hence, the mentally disabled soldiers now patients in the various other state hospitals will be cared for in the new military hospital, which is to be operated by the federal government under lease by the state. Eventually the hospital will become a part of the state hospital system of the state.

The report urges the necessity of a psychopathic hospital in New York city to care for the less serious cases of mental disorder and for patients who only need hospital treatment for short terms. Such a hospital would also serve as a teaching and research center for New York state hospitals. The construction of such an institution was authorized in a bill passed by the last legislature and approved by Governor Smith, but a site for it is still to be obtained. The report urges the obtaining of such a site as one of the most immediately necessary steps in the whole program for the proper care and treatment of the mentally sick in New York state and especially New York city.

N. Y. C. TWO-CENT RATE

To Be Argued in Court of Appeals Monday.

Argument as to whether the New York Central railroad should be forced to return to a rate of two cents a mile in New York state will be heard by the Court of Appeals Monday.

Under a decision the appellate division of the supreme court, the railroad would have to return to the old rate of fare, but Robert Whalen, attorney for the railroad, has appealed the case and obtained from the court a stay of operation pending the decision of the Court of Appeals.

In the meantime, the present three cent fare remains operative. The hearing by the Court of Appeals Monday is in response to an application by Ledyard P. Hale, counsel for the public service commission, second district. The appellate divisions ruling, ordered entered, reversed Supreme Court Justice Hinman's decision dismissing the proceedings begun by the commission to compel the railroad to restore the two cent rate.

Three Whitmore Sisters.

As a rule new creations and dances are usually imported into this country from Paris, but here is an exception. "The Three Whitmore Sisters"—Nina, Frances and Marion—wearing the shortest of short skirts and with express tags about their shapely ankles, giving their destination as Paris, sailed for Europe recently to show Parisians how to shimmy a la American.

Care of the Mother and Infant."
Everyone is invited and urged to

DEER HUNTING SEASON OVER
But Rules Do Not Embarrass Indians
In This State—Much Difficulty in Determining Red Man's Exact
Status.
Albany, Nov. 17.—(Special to The Freeman)—The deer hunting season is over. The period designated by the state during which big game may be shot ended at midnight
November 15, so say the statutes; but although the white residents of the state are in duty bound to obey the mandate of legislative provision, strangely enough the American Indian is not.
Complicated rules and regulations applicable to the pale face do not embarrass the red man, it seems, and there is to be a conference shortly which will be but another of the many which have been held recently to establish the status of the Indians residing upon reservations within the state.
Many Indians believe that they have the right to hunt at any time.
They hold that when they parted with their land they made the provision, which was agreed to, that they should have the right to hunt and fish over the territory parted with at any time. Upon this agreement they now stand, it is said.
Indians are deemed aliens under the New York state conservation law and an alien must pay $20 for a license before he can hunt and then his rifle may crack only upon season periods of the year as the pale face law-makers decree. To this provision the Indians are taking a mild exception.
For the past nine months a legislative committee has been acting with a congressional committee with the purpose of determining the status of the American Indian. Many conferences have been held and many more are to occur. Every phase of government, treaty and the exchange of property rights have been gone into but the matter is still very much in doubt. The actual status of the Indian must be adjusted by a joint federal and state legislation before it will be known.
While there is no record of Indians ruthlessly hunting out of season or of violating the conservation laws, it is known that they feel—in the language of modern slang—"that something is being put over them" when their hunting prerogatives are curtailed by the conservation law. Around many a fire the pipe has been smoked and the braves have nodded their heads objectively to any statute which would abrogate their original agreement that they might hunt over their own land, as it were.
Dr. Carl Bates of Cornell, an authority on Indian affairs, is the authority for the statement that the Indians feel that they can hunt and fish at will and that the provisions of the state conservation law do not apply to them. They respect the law, however, but mean to test it, he says, perhaps not by actual hunting, but by conference to be held for the purpose of ascertaining what the ancient agreement that they should be permitted to hunt and fish at will should be violated by the state.
The above entanglement is but one of many which will be ironed out during the next few months. Another one which is in the process of disentanglement is whether an Indian living on a reservation can bring liquor into that reservation without prosecution. Indian reservations are beyond the scope of either state or national, except in matters of a police nature. A recent opinion by an eminent authority on Indian affairs in the department of the attorney general is to the effect that the state troopers have no jurisdiction upon Indian reservations and may not invade them.

There are 263 days in the year, you sleep 8 hours a day, making 122 leaves 141 days. You have 5 hours recreation each day, also making 122 balance of 69 days. Our store is closed every Saturday afternoon and the 52 half holidays of 26 days that at work in Omaha and Council

the mystery surrounding the theft
from a Chicago, Burlington and

Despite earlier denials the belief
is growing that the loot obtained by
the robbers will total vast sums.
Estimates today run as high as
$3,500,000, while the lowest figure
mentioned in local newspaper re-

The estimate of $2,500,000 has been tentatively confirmed by L. J.

the amount stolen might be "pretty
close to that."
One sack of mail taken, according
to reports, contained $800,000 in government bonds being sent from
San Francisco to Washington.
Merle Phillips, 20 years old postal

to acting as a guard for the robbers,
is being grilled further by the police.
He sticks strongly to his story
that he was "double crossed" by his

Postal Clerk, Said To Have Confessed, Says Pale Double Crossed Him and That He Got None of Loot, Various Estimated At From $1,000,000 To $5,500,000.
by Telegram to The Freeman.
Omaha, Neb., 17.—Postal Inspectors from a score of cities are still at work in Omaha and Council Bluffs today endeavoring to clear up
the mystery surrounding the theft
from a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy mail car of several sacks of registered mail.
Despite earlier denials the belief
is growing that the loot obtained by
the robbers will total vast sums.
Estimates today run as high as
$3,500,000, while the lowest figure
mentioned in local newspaper reports is $1,000,000.
The estimate of $2,500,000 has
been tentatively confirmed by L. J.
Paterson, superintendent of mails at Council Bluffs, who admitted that the amount stolen might be "pretty
close to that."
One sack of mail taken, according
to reports, contained $800,000 in
government bonds being sent from
San Francisco to Washington.
Merle Phillips, 20 years old postal clerk, who is said to have confessed
to acting as a guard for the robbers,
is being grilled further by the police.
He sticks strongly to his story
that he was "double crossed" by his
"pals" and received none of the loot.
